CLASS HISTORY

We will shorten this work of art in the historical field, so as to just cover the highlights. If one wished to cover the whole history of this unbelievable group, it would take more than the twelve years in which it was made.

Now for the first time, this condensed history will be made public:

It seemed like a happy day when the time came in 1940 for a group of young boys and girls to start their adventures in that thing called school.

This marvelous group began by honoring the first grade, which is only natural. Our teachers were Miss Bixler, Miss Groff, and Miss Turby. This is the year Nancy Lehman didn't like the story read by Miss Groff so she slept until five o'clock.

Then came the joyful summer, and only too soon for the most of us, school again. Our instructors this year were Miss Etter, Miss Stake, and Mrs. Stutzman. Maralyn Blanchard sprouted her muscles that year and beat up Howard Geiger by hitting his head against the pavement. Joyce Schoffstall and Nancy Smith filled the corner in Miss Stake's room for a month. It seems that Kistler and Fox weren't the good boys of the class in those days. Mrs. Stutzman found it necessary to tape their mouths shut to keep them quiet.

Onward, ever onward! We managed to reach third grade where we were tutored by Miss Berry, Miss Baum, and Miss Moyer. Misfortune came to the class of '53. Herbert (ice cream sherbet) Hess joined us. Also Susan Jones strengthened our class. It seems Fouche received a black eye from Florence Gittleman for being a little too fresh. Remember Jean Heilman's experience of finding a mouse in her mitten? Roberta Kiner was kept after school for giving Betty Mae Rhoads a bloody nose. Selma Strait joined us that year.

With only ninety-five shopping days left until Christmas, we entered the fourth grade. Mrs. Heisey, Miss Evans, and Mrs. Miller were our teachers. This was the year Miss Evan's room prospered by a big grocery business. Gordan Sandy gave Sue Jones a brush burn by means of a jumping rope.

By sneaking in the door we all made it to fifth grade where we were entertained by Mrs. Daniels, Miss Seltzer, and Mrs. Bomberger. Miss Seltzer found reason to polish our nails with methiolate, so we wouldn't chew them. It just happened that Eileen Nelson had a boy friend that year. All the girls were jealous because Gordan Sandy let her wear his lamb wool mittens. Jean Brady and Lorraine Mercer came to us and showed us up with their good manners. During this year it was found that the reason for Audrey and Sue always being late was because they stood behind the Lutheran Church to read comic books. We finally reached our goal by arriving in the sixth grade. Mrs. Long, Mrs. Degler, and Mrs. Wagner were sturdy enough to handle us this year. Mrs. Long's class ran down the steps at recess time, making the plaster fall off the ceiling and Mrs. Wagner's room was punished by having to stay in a month and rest their heads. Religious Education was our downfall. Mrs. Wagner's class received D's in conduct for chewing bubble gum in Mrs. Edris's class.

We received a thrill of a lifetime when we arrived in our new home the next year. This year we were perfect students and also welcomed Carl Grubb, Ellis Blouch, Luke Grubb, and Robert Smith.

Still speeding onward we reached eighth grade. Here we acquired Fay Seltzer, Gerelene Maulfair, Carol Dell, Martha Roach, Gloria Popp, and Carl Mengel. Red Bachman was asked to pray the "Lord's Prayer" and didn't know it.

After an invigorating summer we all came back to enter ninth grade. It was this year that Fouche kissed Ginny Hughes on a bet. He also had a feud with Mrs. Gass. Mr. Bomberger's Science Club took a very exciting trip to Millards.

Still we plunged forward, getting nearer and nearer to the great climax. Upon entering tenth grade we acquired Faye Heisey. At this time, Betty Smith read so softly that everyone told her to speak "Lawder", which is spelled L-a-w-d-e-r. The class showed off its greatness this year by sponsoring the most successful dance to that time, "THE SPRING SWING".

After that hard year we needed a long vacation, and after this rest, we came back to enter eleventh grade. This year Allen Blouch felt it was his duty to give Uncle Sam a helping hand in the Navy, and Jean hasn't been the same since. In chemistry class the boys burned phosphorous--of course they added a few things of their own while Mr. Bomberger was out of the room. What a mess!! Corinne Suter, Frank Shellhamer, and of course the cause of the big fuss, "Gus" Zemba, entered our class.

Now came the big moment. We finally reached the culmination point -- Twelfth Grade. Every body was bubbling over with excitement, awaiting the ultimate end. In a way it is sad also, for after this year we will all go our separate ways and not be together as a group anymore. Good-bye and good luck to everyone.

Millards, here we come!

What's so interesting?

You name it!

CLASS PROPHECY

Let us look closely into the new, supersonic crystal ball which has just been installed in Mr. Swank's office. He has just set it for the year 1968. Watch closely now!

There's Fay Heisey demonstrating the skill that won for her the Roller Derby Championship.

Now we see Fire Chief Geiger of the Ono Fire Co. leaving on a call.

Nancy Forney, nationally known model, is wearing one of Christian Dior's latest spring frocks.

Coming into view is Gene Deiter, first man to reach the moon in a Chevy.

Looking into one of the classrooms we see Lois Bomgardner teaching the future county superintendent.

Before us is one of Gus Zemba's publications on how to grow giant size shoulders.

There's Sue Jones campaigning for the U. S. presidency. Janet Hatter, editor of the Daily Bull, is giving her full support. She's greatest opponent is Herb Hess, democratic spokesman, who is still trying to get Kefauver into office.

Now we see Bob Witmer who is in business modeling curly toupees.

Dropping in at P. H. S. we see Herk Flowers trying hard to keep order in his P. O. D. class.

There's Gerry Maulfair, hot rod bus driver for Tony's Bus Line Inc.

Now we see Dave Geib, proprietor of Weaver's Shoe Repair Shop, busy at work.

Coming into focus is a movie marque announcing a double feature, Barb Sandy starring in a picture opposite Barry Fitzgerald and Glenn Ensminger replacing Tony Baxter as Rudolph Valentino.

Pat Hershey and "Grubbie" are now raising the future football team for P. H. S.

Before us is Bob Kelchner, proudly wearing his Distinguished Flying Cross.

There's Maxine Herr, timekeeper for the P. I. A. A. playoffs between P. H. S. and K. H. S.

Jay Brubaker has taken over the Palmyra Bologna Factory and has only women employees.

Shirley Stark is now playing with the Philharmonic Orchestra which is, at present, giving a concert in the East Indies.

Betty Maulfair struts into view as head majorette for Burling Bros. Circus.

Here's Dick Hartman. After receiving his degree in Art, Music, Dramatics, and Business, he is digging ditches for Carlos Adams.

Peeping into Shirley Souder's home we see her raising her own little state police force.

What have we here? Snap Bahner as chief TV photographer for CBS. In case you haven't heard, people suddenly have gone back to radio.

There's George Bell running in competition against Henry Ford.

Entering the Harrisburg Polyclinic we encounter Betty Rhoads, superintendent of nurses speaking to Bill Bowman, noted physical therapist.

Col. Corinne Suter has just replaced Oveta Kulp Hobby as Federal Security Administrator.

Dolly Patrick is now working for Chrysler Corp. testing Plymouths for water tightness.

Terry Moyer has just written a book entitled "Allegheny."

Looking in on a meeting of the United Nations we see Ingrid Kirnbauer representing Austria.

Catching a glimpse of the sports world we see Ken Bucks pitching for the American All Star baseball team. Harry Snavely is managing the Phillies. Also, Tom Cline is giving the Globe Trotters a hard time. Mike Nye has just returned from the Olympics where he heaped fame upon the United States when he cleared seven feet in the high jump.

Play by play description of the afore mentioned sports activities were broadcast by Phil Bucher.

Now appearing before us is Selma Strait, world famous baton twirler.

Forming inside the crystal ball is a model of George Keener's factory for manufacturing jeans of elastic, thus giving the wearer a tighter fit.

There's Marianne Lang, the only artist to have her cartoons translated internationally.

What's this? Commercials in a crystal ball? Why, it's Don Smith, high pressure salesman, speaking a mile a minute in an effort to sell Mama Murphey's Medicated Meatballs for their originator, Paul Wagner, who is serving in Uncle Sam's Navy. By the way, Paul's secretary, Shirley Hevel, is managing the business for him while he is away.

Still another business man has come out of the class of '53; Earl Light has taken over the Studebaker Garage.

It seems Maralyn Blanchard's chain of Millies Restaurants has just put Howard Johnsons out of business.

After fifteen years we see Rauch, Shertzer, and Yohn still struggling for that P. F. C. stripe.

Now we see Mrs. Wayne Miller, the former Marlene Snavely, being crowned Mrs. America.

Coming into view is Marv Rhoads, truant officer, on the trail of another delinquent.

The crystal ball is becoming cloudy, but we can still see Glenn Rodgers taking top billing with his bird show.

The future fades from view and we bring ourselves back to reality and the year 1953.

First performance over.

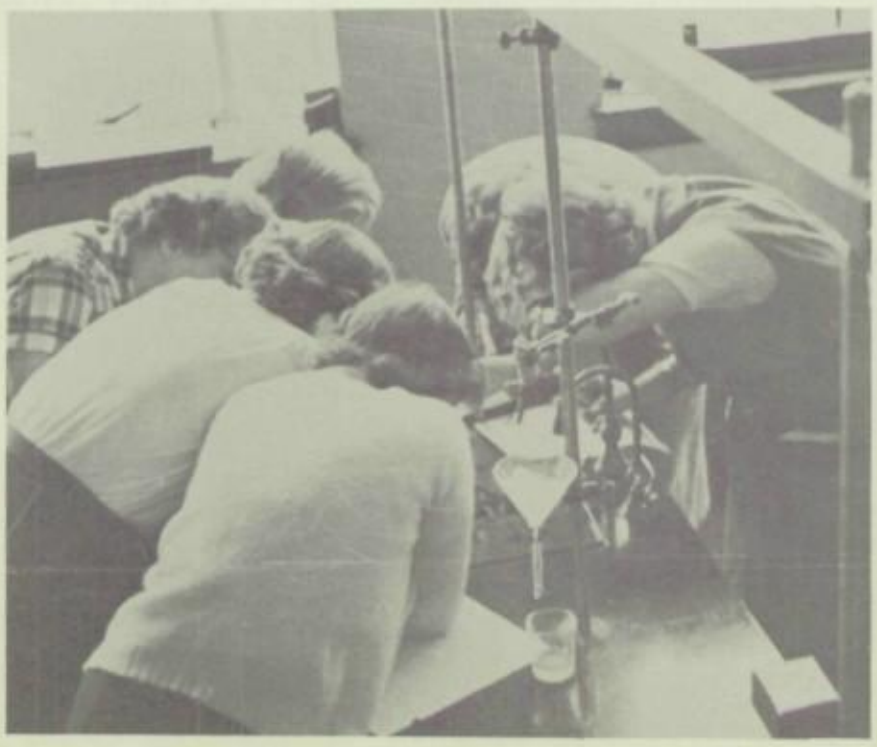
Bargain! Two tens for a quarter.

Now what happens?

Come ona my house.

Tell me a story, Joyce!

I know it worked last year.



How did they get the same answer?

You, just what do you think you're doing?

Rock-a-bye Baby!

CLASS WILL

We, the members of Palmyra High School's class of 1953, realizing that our school days are gone forever and now exist only in memory; do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our first, last, and only will and testament.

First---We will and bequeath to the student body our loyalty and devotion to this institution of learning in the hope that they will carry it on to further greatness.

Second---To the members of the junior class we will our ability to make and keep friends.

Third---To the members of the sophomore class we will our ability to charm the faculty.

Fourth---To the members of the freshman class we will our innocence.

To next year's majorettes we leave Mr. Nichol's trophy.

The football championship to next year's team.

The cheerleader's pep to next year's squad.

Dick Bachman's and Ginny Hughes' red hair to Eva Wagner.

Snap Bahner's photographic ability to Roger Forry.

George Bell's Ford Victoria to Glenn Bashore.

Ellis Blouch's farming ability to Richard Lefever.

Lois Bomgardner's interest at F. & M. to Carol Mark.

Bill Bowman's romantic ability in the halls to Kenny Lehman.

Jean Brady's love of the Navy to Audrey Spancake.

Chub Brightbill's absenteeism to Ronnie Yeich.

Phil Bucher's regular attendance to Everett Miller.

Ken Bucks' masculine appearance to "Susie" Hoffer.

Tom Cline's and Carl Nye's height to Danny Blackwell.

Gene Deiter's and Robert Witmer's curly hair to Eileen Tittle.

Carol Dell's laugh to Pat Rausch.

Glenn Ensminger's ability to slide through to a "slippery" successor.

Herk Flowers' pole vaulting ability to Joel Grace.

Nancy Forney's wardrobe to Janice Gingrich.

Ron Fouche's ability to drive a car to Mr. Dunlap's Driver Training Class.

Clarence Fox's scholastic ability to Dale Mull.

Dave Geib's physique to Jack Brandt.

Carl Grubb's muscles to Bruce Stark.

Luke Grubb's musical ability to Anita Wentling.

Dick Hartman's artistic ability to Lois Jones.

Janet Hatter's position as editor of High Times to June Fridy.

Jean Heilman's job at the "Five and Ten" to her sister Faye.

Maxine Herr's luck of getting caught playing hookey to Dale Dry.

Shirley Hevel's commercial ability to Mary Louise Kline.

George Keener's "line" with the girls to Paul Hibshman.

Ingrid Kirnbauer's dramatic ability to next year's play cast.

Bob Kistler's hair cutting ability to Ronald Lutz.

Marianne Lang's sense of humor to Miriam Yeich.

Lou Lehman's interest in Hershey Junior College to Nancy Poorman.

Earl Light's mechanical ability to next years physics class.

Betty Maulfair's boy troubles to Marcia Jackson.

Gerry Maulfair's deftness in shorthand to Sylvia Adey.

Eileen Nelson's writing ability to Mary Eby.

Audrey Powell's ability as typist to a worthy successor.

Earl Rauch's shyness to Dave Yohn.

Marv Rhoads' corny laugh to Kenny Plessinger.

Glenn Rodger's German translations to Anita Wentling.

Barb Sandy's reign as Harvest Moon Queen to a worthy successor.

Joyce Schoffstall's clowning to Elnora Long.

Fay Seltzer's sewing ability to Naomi Yingst.

Frank Shellhamer's pipe to Bill Melhorn.

Betty Smith's drowsiness to her sister Ruthanna.

Don Smith's and Corinne Suter's quietness to Janet Umberger.

Nancy Smith's reserved seat at the bowling alley to Shirley Trostle.

Bob Smith's blush to Rodney Killian.

Marlene Snavely's looks to Naomi Bashore.

Harry Snavely's managing ability to Fred Neiswender.

Shirley Stark's ability to play the organ to Nancy Grace.

Paul Wagner's dancing ability to the junior boys.

Allen Yohn's big time tactics to Bert Gussler.

Gus Zemba's shoulders to Wilbur Smith.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and affixed our seal at our high school in the Borough of Palmyra and State of Pennsylvania, this the 14th day of May, 1953 A.D.

In beating Ephrata, the Palms played before the largest crowd in their football history. More than three thousand fans saw Allen Yohn and Glenn Bashore score the winning touchdowns for Palmyra.

At Lititz it was the passing arm of Dick Bachman that won for Palmyra as he threw two passes for touchdowns. In losing to Hershey, the Palms had a twenty-two game winning streak snapped. A highlight of the game was a seventy-two yard run by Hershey's Capitani. Swatara Twp. tied Palmyra for the third straight year in a game that was marked by injuries. Swatara had a hard-running back in Dick Breski who scored a touchdown and kicked two extra points.

The Palms power went to work in the third period against Biglerville as they scored three times in that frame to register their second shutout of the season. Palmyra scored every period in the Manheim Boro game with Russ Teahl going fifty-five yards for the longest run of the day. In the last game of the season, Palmyra racked up fourteen first downs to E-town's four but were unable to score. The game was marked by brilliant defensive play on the part of both teams.

The boys on these two pages have played their last season as members of the Palmyra High School football team. Their leadership and spirit led the Palms to the Conference of the Roses championship for the second time in three years. They constituted a formidable part of the team and they will be remembered for their fine play.

With height on their side the Palms won the county championship for the third straight year. They were beaten only once in regular season play but lost two pre-season tilts.

The Palms held the season's record for the most points scored in a game as they swamped Cornwall 95 to 51. Carl Grubb set a new county record by scoring 55 points against Myerstown and was also elected to the County All-Star Team, receiving the highest total of votes of all the county players.

In the Class B District 3 playoffs, Palmyra beat Susquehanna and Manor Township, in two thrilling games, but lost to Kutztown in the semi-finals.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Junior Varsity team had a commendable record of thirteen wins and seven losses. They played an excellent brand of ball that marked them as varsity material for next year. The boys this year made up for their lack of height with fine ball handling and accurate shooting.

Palmyra got off to a slow start in 1953, losing three out of their first four games, but they found the range in the latter part of the season and won four straight. They had some tough luck in losing two games by only one run. The team was composed mainly of rookies who molded themselves into a fine team by their good ballplaying.

Ken Bucks, who was a mainstay on the pitching staff, received the Dick Fidler baseball award.

Palmyra started off on the right foot by winning the Hershey-Hummelstown-Palmyra meet. In the Susquehanna-Boiling Springs-Palmyra triangular meet however, the Palms placed second as a strong Susquehanna team took top honors. In the next three meets, Palmyra lost to Swatara but defeated Annville and North Lebanon.

In the District meet, Richard Bachman took first place in the pole vault. Three other boys, Carl Nye, Glenn Bashore and John Flowers, also placed in their events.

Richard Bachman represented Palmyra in the state meet and it was the first time that Palmyra was ever represented in that meet.

In the Lebanon County meet, Annville beat Palmyra by one and one-half points as it turned out to be a battle between these two teams. Richard Bachman was scoring champion with fourteen points as he took first place in the pole vault and the 220 yard run. He also placed second in the 100 yard dash. Carl Nye broke the high jump record with a leap of five feet nine inches. Another record-breaker was Glenn Bashore who copped the 880 yard run.

VARSITY

The 1952-53 sports year was again a successful one for the Palms. Behind the various teams were the cheerleaders who have maintained the school spirit among the student body. The squad consisted of five seniors, two juniors, and three sophomores. These girls have been consistently displaying their school spirit and have cheered the teams on to victory with their pep and enthusiasm. They leave their excellent cheering ability to next year's squad in hopes that they may have as much success as the 52-53 squad.

SENIOR HIGH INTRAMURALS

Nine intramural teams were organized for the 1953 basketball season under Miss Kreider's supervision. Senior teams were: the Aces, the Blitzens, and the Blue Streaks; Junior teams: the Odds and Ends, the Oughts, and the J.C.'s; Sophomore teams: The Rockettes, the Basket Babes, and the Speedy Sophs.

The Aces won the championship, winning eight games and losing none. With the accurate shooting ability of Joyce Schoffstall, Marlene Snavely, Pat Hershey, Lois Bomgardner, and Nancy Lehman and the capable guarding of Faye Heisey and Audrey Powell, the Aces racked up a total of 279 points.

The ten highest scorers were Joyce Schoffstall, Marlene Snavely, Mary Lou Gingrich, Faye Bucks, Janet Swartz, Pat Hershey, Nancy Lehman, Gerlene Maulfair, Mary Eby, and Ruthann Longenecker.

These intramural games were enjoyed by all who participated in them and are being looked forward to next year with much enthusiasm.

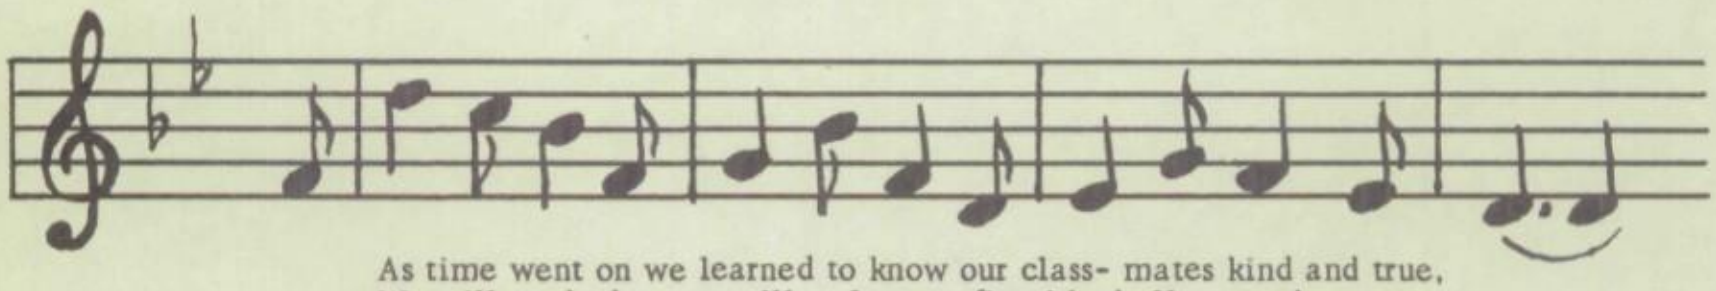
PALMYRA

The Class Song

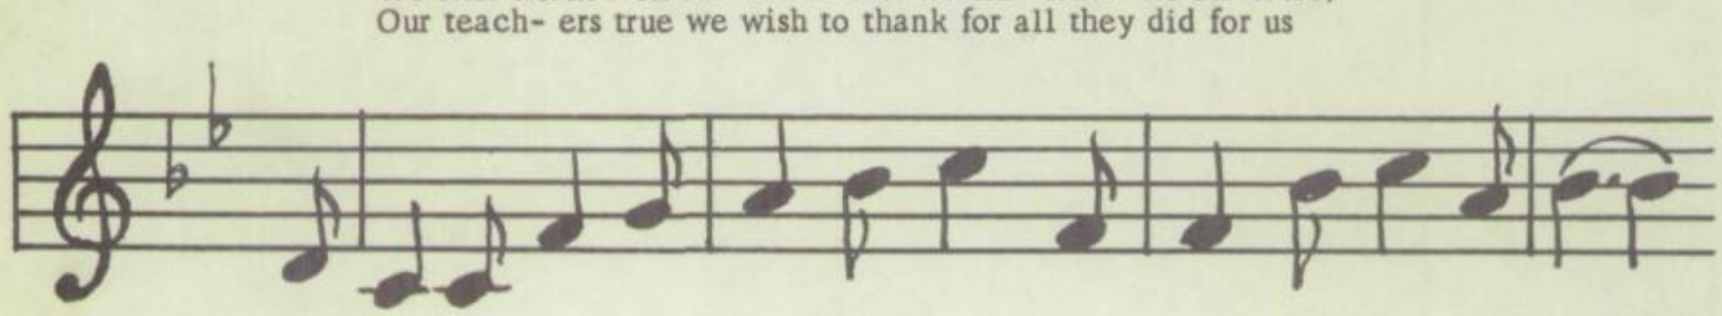
WORDS AND MUSIC BY LUKE GRUBB

Twelve years a- go when we were small we ent- tered some thing new,
And next we ent- ered Jun- ior High new treas- ures here to find,
Now grad- u- a- tion time is here, good- by to ma- ny a friend

We knew not what was a- head of us but work soon came to view.
We joined our clubs and we played our sports which all were ve- ry fine.
To those who fol- low we wish to them a luck that will not end.



As time went on we learned to know our class- mates kind and true,
We still worked on un- till at last we fin- ished all our tasks,
Our teach- ers true we wish to thank for all they did for us



Al- though we had our moans and groans those first six years just flew!
And now we have our work com- plete we've reached our goal at last!
For we will not for- get the time we spent in P. H. S.!
